VITAL WATER DECISION

JUDGE JACKSON HOLDS BURBANK HAS RIGHT TO PUMP WATER BENEATH SURFACE

A decision of far reaching importance to water users in this part of the San Fernando Valley and involving a point never raised before, was rendered by Judge Jackson of the Superior Court of Los Angeles on Monday in a suit brought by J. W. Fawkes to restrain the City of Burbank from disposing of $75,000 of bonds voted for water works, the suit apparently being grounded on the contention that the underground water to be pumped by the proposed water works belongs to Los Angeles.

The judge held that the City of Los Angeles parts with title to the aqueduct water which it imports from another watershed when it sells that water to the farmers of the valley. When it is put onto the ground and percolates into the soil Los Angeles ceases to have any rights in it, and any person owning land under which that aqueduct water collects can pump it out regardless of the fact that Los Angeles owns the Los Angeles River water, because this aqueduct water is brought from a distant watershed and not from the watershed in which Los Angeles claims water rights.

The decision is to the effect that there is no way to segregate that Owens River water in the soil and that Los Angeles city can not keep the ranchers nor any one else from pumping it. This point has never before been raised nor brought out in any decision. It has been estimated that about 25 per cent of the aqueduct water sold for irrigation purposes through percolation collects beneath the surface in the manner indicated and can be recovered. Fawkes has declared that he will carry the suit to the Supreme Court. Glendale has wells on the San Fernando Road and is therefore interested in the decision as well as Burbank.

THINK GLENDALE EARTHLY PARADISE

Lieut. C. J. Kerr and wife, who have been living at 211 Milford since last September, coming here from Seattle, Wash., where Lieut. Kerr was in the naval construction department of the government, will return to Seattle in a few days so he can go before the retiring board. He says he expects to sell the home in Philadelphia and come back to Glendale to live, for, though he has traveled the world over, he has never found a place that can approach it in scenic beauty and healthful climate and surroundings. Mrs. Kerr agrees with her husband in this estimate and says she will be delighted to get back to Glendale to stay.

YELLOW AND WHITE LUNCHEON

Mrs. John Wakefield West of 1333 Valley View Road entertained Wednesday for Mrs. Earl Bryant with a one o'clock luncheon. White iris and yellow acacia were effectively combined in the floral decorations for the pretty function at which covers were laid for Mrs. Arthur Dibbern, Mrs. James Apffel, Mrs. Eric Augustine, Mrs. R. D. Angelica, the hostess and guest of honor. The afternoon following the luncheon was devoted to needlework and visiting. Mrs. Bryant is leaving today to spend the remainder of the week with her sister, Mrs. Joseph McKee, at her ranch in the Lankershim Valley.

B. P. O. E. POPULAR

EXALTED RULER THOM REALIZES AMBITION FOR THE LODGE HE HEADS

The tremendous growth of Glendale Lodge No. 1289, B. P. O. E., is a source of pride to officials and members as they review the big classes that come before them for initiation once a fortnight. Since the lodge took possession of its handsome Club House its membership has practically doubled. It now has an enrollment of 1150 and that will be largely augmented at the next regular meeting when the class recently voted into membership will have to be initiated by special dispensation because it is so large. When Cameron Thom, Exalted Ruler, and his fellow officials were inducted into office the first of April, it was his announced ambition to bring the roster of live, active members up to one thousand. That ambition has been more than realized and still they come.

BOY BURGLAR CAUGHT

SHELBY TIPTON CONFESSES THEFTS AND SURRENDERS HIS LOOT

Shelby Tipton, a 15-year-old boy who came to Glendale from Beaumont early in December last, was arrested Wednesday and charged with burglarizing the James Bennett home at 530 West Colorado and S. A. Davis' at 225 South Central. The Tiptons live at 639 West Elk Avenue, near San Fernando Road. Shelby confessed his guilt and led the officers to the barn in rear of his home, where he had cached his stealings. All of the several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry, watches and other articles stolen from Bennett's house was recovered, and all but 45 cents of the money. Most of the articles taken from Mr. Davis' home were recovered, also. Shelby had showed his cache to some boy companions and they caused his arrest. He claims that some of his stealings were taken from him. His burglaries began soon after the family moved here and he had no accomplices, but says a girl in Long Beach helped him dispose of the proceeds of his earlier thefts. This statement of the prisoner is being investigated, Chief Lampert says.

Shelby's father does not know how to account for his son's conduct. He says the boy was unruly and he therefore kept him in at night. But the boy got even by conducting his operations in daytime. He would go up to a back door, knock loudly, and if his knock was responded to, gave some excuse. If not, he at once made plans to force an entry. While he has confessed to only two burglaries, the police force think he may yet be connected with others. He will be taken to the Juvenile Hall in Los Angeles today for examination.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

At the meeting of the Glendale Lodge K. of P. held last Tuesday evening at the lodge hall on the corner of Brand and Park Avenue, the attendance was unsually large, quite a delegation from Burbank being present and some of the Burbank knights making addresses. At that time arrangements were perfected for funeral services which were conducted by the lodge over the remains of their departed brother, A. M. Watson, which took place Wednesday at 3 p. m. at Forest Lawn Memorial Park and which were very largely attended. Many fellow workers of deceased from the County offices in Los Angeles were there to pay their last tributes of respect both by flowers and by speeches in which they praised his fine quanties.

CENSUS CANVAS

ALL WHO HAVE NOT BEEN ENUMERATED URGED TO MAKE IT KNOWN

The census canvas for Glendale has been made by efficient enumerators. It is all important that every man, woman and child be included in the government census. An opportunity is now given for any person who has reason to believe that he was not enumerated to make known that fact.

Were you absent during the enumeration, or was it impossible for the enumerator to interview you?

Did you report the names of all persons who were in your house?

Do you know of any one who has been omitted? Kindly notify one of the enumerators or City Clerk J. C. Sherer, giving the name and address. This is of vital importance to Glendale. Representation in congress and the legislature depend upon the enumeration. The standing of Glendale as a city is at stake. We urge every organization and every patriotic citizen to co-operate in this recheck.

Prompt action is essential.

THE SEDITION BILLS

ATTORNEY GENERAL PALMER TELLS RULES COMMITTEE SOME LEGISLATION IS NECESSARY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Attorney General Palmer went to the White House early today for a conference on the sedition bill. The conference delayed his appearance before the Rules Committee where he planned to insist that a sedition bill be passed.

Later Palmer sent a letter to the committee saying that neither the Graham nor the Sterling sedition bills is satisfactory but that some legislation is necessary. He said the bill he would prefer to see passed is that of Representative Deye of Massachusetts but he made no formal recommendation for its passage.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was the first witness today before the committee hearing. He declared that the sedition bills now pending before Congress are nothing more than anti-strike legislation. He declared that "such measures will not make our country, now the best in the world, any better."

Representatives of the negro press filed a protest against the bills saying they would prevent the colored people from expressing their just protest. Notice was given the committee that several newspapers, college professors and others desire to make protests later.

PARALYSIS OF KAISER WILLIAM

TRAVELLERS FROM HOLLAND DECLARE HE SUFFERED STROKE LAST SUNDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Jan. 22.—Travellers from Holland today reported that the former Kaiser suffered a stroke of paralysis Sunday while walking in the garden of his temporary home at Amerongen. They said rumors of the stroke are circulating in Holland. The United Press has been unable to secure any confirmation of the reports.

RACE RIOTING IN ARKANSAS

STARTS AT BURNIS HILLS WHEN NEGRO IS ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF MULE; QUELLED BY TROOPS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DUMAS, Ark., Jan. 22.—It is believed that the race rioting at Burnis Hills has been controlled following the arrival there of 125 troops from Camp Pike. The troops went to the scene of the rioting during the night. The riot started when three deputy sheriffs arrested a negro on the charge of stealing a mule. The negroes overpowered the deputy sheriffs and released the captured man. No casualties have been reported.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT AMENDMENTS

INTRODUCED IN HOUSE BY REPRESENTATIVE SABATH BASED ON THREATENED INFLUENZA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Representative Sabath of Illinois today introduced in the House amendments to the prohibition enforcement law to allow the sale of beer with three per cent alcohol and wine with nine per cent. The present law places the maximum at one-half of one per cent.

Another amendment increases the amount of liquor a physician may prescribe from a pint each ten days to a quart each fifteen days.

A short time later Sabath introduced another resolution suspending for ninety days the limit of a pint of liquor each ten days for sick persons. He gave the threatened return of influenza as a reason, saying that whiskey is the only effective remedy against the disease.

UNION PASSENGER STATION

RECOMMENDED FOR LOS ANGELES IN REPORT OF STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION TO BE LOCATED AT PLAZA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—Recommendations for a union passenger terminal to be used by all railroads entering Los Angeles and costing $10,000,000 were made in a report given out today by the State Railroad Commission.

The station will be located near the plaza and would extend along the east side of North Main street, then from Commercial street to Alhambra avenue.

A union freight depot on the present site of the Santa Fe station to cost $2,500,000 also is recommended. An elevated line from the passenger terminal to the Aliso street bridge is another suggestion in the report, which is the result of a year's study.

With regard to grade crossings on the banks of the Los Angeles river, it was recommended that they be eliminated entirely. The program as outlined would do away with 61 grade crossings and eliminate eight electric and two steam line crossings between Los Angeles and Pasadena.

Joint Santa Fe and Salt Lake tracks from Los Angeles to Pasadena are recommended. The total cost of the program is estimated at $32,000,000.

A CHEAP PARK

CITY OFFICIALS DISCUSS POSSIBILITIES OF ACREAGE IN ANNEXED DISTRICT

Though Glendale has been disappointed in its ambitious plans for a memorial city park, there is a possibility that it may acquire a piece of property which will fulfill some of the requirements of a park at a minimum cost. Some time ago a piece of ground nine and one-half acres in extent about a mile northwest of the civic center (as the crow flies) was offered the city by a Mr. Gray to be used for park purposes for the sum of $10,000, with a donation of $2500 from the selling price. The offer was made in connection with matters discussed at a meeting of residents and taxpayers to decide what should be done with a certain road tax which has been duplicated and paid twice, in districts recently annexed to Glendale. The city collected the tax and then the county collected it again. The county paid it over to the city, which now has it in custody in a special fund. It appears there are legal obstacles in the way of returning it to the individual taxpayers so the meeting was called to determine what use the city could make of it that would be acceptable to the taxpayers. They voted to have it used for park purposes. City officials say if the tax were applied on the property mentioned it would bring the purchase price down to about $5000. The matter is now in the hands of a special committee which has not yet submitted its report.

The land is situated about 600 feet south of the P. E.'s Burbank line, and an equal distance west of Pacific Avenue at the end of Patterson Avenue. It is distitute of improvements and the wash channel touches one corner of it. It was Mr. Gray's suggestion, in the event of its purchase by the city, that the portion of it which lies next to the wash be developed as an auto parking ground.

The Grand View annexed district is included in this district, which has paid the duplicate road tax and the

GIRLS' BASKET BALL GAME

Wednesday afternoon a practice basket ball game between girls of the Intermediate and a team from the Cerritos Avenue school was played on the Cerritos court. It was a nine-count game, and ended with a score of 6 to 2 in favor of Intermediate. It was the first game of the season and in the nature of a try-out. A return game will be played next week on the Intermediate court. Miss Sinclair of Intermediate is the coach for the girls of that school and Miss Gray performs the same service for the girls of Cerritos School.

ADOLESCENT AGE

DISCUSSED BY PROF. W. H. HEAD, WHO RECITES FROM "PILGRIM'S PROGRESS"

The first of the six programs to be given by Prof. W. H. Head of Occidental College, was presented Wednesday evening at the First Congregational Church. It was well attended and great interest was manifested.

The speaker devoted a half hour to a discussion of the age of adolescence and dwelt particularly on Sunday school teaching at this age. On the blackboard he gave classifications showing how the standard grades should be made up.

He held that many Sunday schools lose 75 per cent of their scholars from 11 to 24 years of age and the cause, he declared, is due in part to failure to interest the pupils during that age period on account of a lack of qualified teachers and suitable graded lessons.

He also showed there is a big loss during the same ages in our public schools which suffer from the same causes, so much so that now the effort is to find the vocational trend of the pupil in order to interest him.

In giving a definition of education, he said: "The best education is that which fits a person to meet the problems of life."

This discussion was followed by a dramatic recital of "Pilgrim's Progress." Prof. Head was especially fine in his delineation of the "pilgrims," his facial expression and voice being especially adapted to the portrayal of the different characters.

The evening was immensely enjoyed and all present were very enthusiastic over it.

WEATHER FORECAST: Unsettled weather, probable showers tonight and Friday. No important change in temperatures.

HIGH SCHOOL MOTHERS

ENJOY INTERESTING AND PROFITABLE PARENT-TEACHER MEETING

While the attendance on the meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday afternoon was not as large as that which has sometimes gathered on similar occasions, it was a representative body of intelligent, interested women. The president, Mrs. George U. Moyse, conducted the meeting in her customary efficient manner, and it was brought to a prompt close.

Mrs. Hartley Shaw told of a visit she and Mrs. A. A. Barton had made to the Los Angeles institution at San Fernando known as El Retiro, a school for girls who need care and training to fit themselves for self-support but who are not delinquents. The inmates are not prisoners but are free to leave at any time, and a system of self-government is practiced. She reported that she found a lot of contented girls and was much pleased by what she saw. She also reported needs of the institution and urged her hearers to visit it. At the conclusion of her talk Mrs. John Robert White moved that the association appropriate $5 from its treasury to be expended for magazine subscriptions for El Retiro, and the motion carried when put to vote.

The president told of a trip made by herself and Mrs. Wernette to Alhambra in response to the invitation of the Alhambra High School to come and help them organize a Parent-Teacher Association, saying that the report she gave of the policy and methods of the Glendale High School P. T. A. seemed to meet with approval and she was assured that Glendale would have imitators.

Mrs. Barton made a report on the work of the advisory committee rel-

R. E. JAHNS TO RETURN

R. E. Jahns, who formerly lived in Glendale and who is now mechanical construction engineer at Bullock's Dry Goods Store, has just purchased from Mrs. A. W. Lindsley property at 549 Salem Street which he expects to occupy as a home. He expects to have possession February 3. On the same day Mrs. Lindsley will move into a home she has purchased from Mrs. Russell at 327 West Wilson Avenue. The Jahns, who have been living in Boyle Heights, are very glad to return and say they would rather live in a tent in Glendale than in a palace elsewhere. These sales were negotiated by Burton & Chandler.

ORANGE GROVE HOME

MRS. CHARLES R. WOOD BUYS ACREAGE FROM DAN CAMPBELL ON GRAND VIEW

Mrs. Charles R. Wood of Pittsburg, Pa., who with her invalid son has been a resident of Glendale for a year or more and who is now residing on East Colorado Street, has purchased through the medium of Burton & Chandler 3 6-10 acres of foothill orange orchard from Daniel Campbell on Grand View Boulevard. On it she is planning to erect a house of Spanish architecture containing eight rooms built around a typical patio centered with a fountain. Like the majority of Easterners, the orange grove has a never failing charm and that environment was the prime requisite of all the sites Mrs. Wood considered. The one chosen has a very beautiful outlook and is a choice situation.

CLEAR STATEMENT ON THE HIGH SCHOOL BOND ISSUE QUESTION

Almost two months ago the attention of the citizens of the Glendale Union High school district was called to the fact that there is more room needed to accommodate the large attendance of boys and girls at the high school. The information as given out from the teachers and board of trustees was conveyed to the public through the columns of the Glendale Evening News. The announcement met with the hearty approval of every citizen unless it were those who are chronic objectors to the expense of conducting the schools.

Now, may it be understood for once and all that the rank and file of the people of the Glendale Union High School district do not in any way oppose making ample improvements for the comfortable accommodation of those who are attending school, but there are many citizens of the district who do oppose the extravagant purchase of high priced frontage on Brand boulevard to be used for school purposes. Such opposition is founded on the principle of its not being best for the school to be on a street of great traffic and it is not best to spend money for high priced land when land at a lower value will answer the same purpose. It is not advisable to retard the mercantile growth of a section of the city by taking land for school purposes when the interests of the school can be better served by constructing the buildings elsewhere.

The point the Evening News wishes to make clear in these few lines is that the citizens of the school district stand almost unanimous in favor of necessary improvements and undoubtedly will support a bond election to make such improvement possible.. The opposition comes from a class of people who disapprove of the purchase of land on Brand Boulevard for school purposes. Their reasons for such disapproval have been clearly stated from time to time and they will continue to entertain the same views so long as they have the best interests of the schools and the community at heart.

THE DULL BOY AND GIRL NEGLECTED

The free public school system is one of the greatest blessings that has ever come to the people of the United States. That boys and girls are privileged to attend a place of learning without any cost to them is indeed a great opportunity and one for which they should feel thankful.

It is the intention of the supporters of the public school system, and every citizen is in reality a supporter of that system, that the public schools be so conducted that boys and girls will not only have an opportunity to get what is known as a common school education but they will be encouraged and aided in acquiring a common school education.

It is not the intention of the supporters of the public school system that the bright boy and girl are to be given the preference in the class room and at the time of public entertainments, and that the dull boy and girl be neglected. The teacher that does the very most for his class is the one who will keep in mind the needs of the child who is backward and slow to comprehend a hasty explanation of the subject in hand. The schools are for the masses of children and not for the individual bright ones. How easy it is to select the boy who can declaim well and repeatedly have him represent his class, thus making it appear that the entire class comes up to his standard, when the truth of the matter is that the boy who is backward in declamation work is never given any opportunity for improvement in that work.

The result of present methods in many schools make it possible that out of a school of several hundred only ten or twelve of that number get the advantage of public speaking instruction, for the reason that they make a good appearance before the public and thus advertise the school. While it might seem in place to put the willing ones to the front and allow them to give the school a moderate degree of publicity in this respect it is a mistake to neglect the other ninety per cent who are deserving of an education along these lines.

The bright boy and girl in the classroom usually gets the advantage over the one who is slow to comprehend the subjects in hand. Is it not true that boys and girls who have not been able to recite promptly have been severely censured by the teacher, and one whose mind works more quickly is called upon to make the recitation. This method of procedure on the part of the teacher in charge has the effect of causing the slow pupil to become more inactive and the brighter one to become more active in class work.

These are criticisms that need not be applied to any particular school or to any individual teacher for they are general criticisms and can be remedied only by the teacher preferring to have what may seem to a non-intelligent visitor a dull recitation by devoting the time to the class instead of to a few of the bright lights of the class.

They expect to come back to Glendale next winter with their daughter and her husband, with the expectation that all will settle here.

LAWRENCE COLE NEARLY ELECTROCUTED

Rev. C. A. Cole's youngest brother, Lawrence, recently had a narrow escape from electrocution. He was going south on Main Street in Los Angeles in his Ford when a trolley wire broke and fell on the machine. The fenders were burned in two and the radiator badly damaged, but the rubber tires kept the wire from touching the ground and thus Lawrence escaped instant death. He had a worse scare than ever came to his lot in all his naval service, he said.

MR. AND MRS. A. B. CUNNINGHAM BEREAVED

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson B. Cunningham have extended to them their deepest sympathy in the death of their infant son. Anderson Fitzgerald Cunningham, who passed away Monday evening at the Burbank Hospital. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Co., with interment at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Rev. J. Wesley Scott of South Pasadena officiated.

DEATH OF MRS. W. O. JOHNSON

Lillie Johnson, wife of William Oscar Johnson, died at her home, 105 South Maryland Avenue Wednesday morning, January 21, 1920, at the age of 57 years. She had been a resident of Glendale for many months and will be missed by a large group of friends by whom she was held in high esteem. Having been a sufferer for the past nine years, her passing was to her a blessed release from pain, although she had never complained and had borne it with wonderful patience and sweetness. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Elmer Green of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. D. W. Nicoles of 123 East Elk Avenue, this city. Funeral services will be held from the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company Friday at 2 p. m., Rev. Clifford Cole officiating and interment at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

GLENDALE CIVIC CLUB

The organization formerly known as "The Tropico Thursday Afternoon Club" has been reorganized as the Glendale Civic Club and the necessary changes have been made in its constitution. Last week it held a meeting in conjunction with the Cerritos P. T. A. in the audience chamber of the city building Fire Station No. 2, at the corner of Brand and Los Feliz Road. Addresses were made by Miss Vandergruberg of the City Teachers' Club of Los Angeles, and by Dr. Jessie Russell, who talked on the Community Property Laws. Five new members were enrolled and applications for membership were reported. Mrs. E. V. Bacon is president of the organization and believes it has a very promising future. The city has agreed to make minor changes in the hall which will fit it to serve as a community center for the use of clubs, etc., and the Civic Club will meet there once a month.

THE WEDNESDAY CLUB

The Wednesday Club was entertained this week by Mrs. Alfred Muhleman of East Windsor Road with a musical and social afternoon and a cafeteria luncheon. Present were Mesdames Clotworthy, Ringert, Hester, Henshaw, Sanders, Gibson, Roach, Charles Muhleman, Mrs. Glover and her mother, Mrs. Thorwert, Mrs. Letton, now of Long Beach, and her cousin, Mrs. Mary S. Cable, now at Terminal Island, the two ladies motoring up from the beach.

AUTOS DAMAGED IN COLLISION

H. B. Platt of Pasadena, manager of the pipe organ factory in Van Nuys, was on his way to work this morning and while proceeding westward on Brand in his Buick touring car, he saw coming down Maryland Avenue a Ford car, driven by a lady. Noting that the cars would crash together if he kept straight on, Mr. Platt swerved sharply to the left, but his front bumper caught the left front fender of the Ford and twisted it slightly. His car crashed into the iron lamppost at the southwest corner of Maryland and Brand, with the result that his left wheel was crushed, the fender bent and the bumper nearly torn off. One of the big light shades was broken. The Ford car was driven by Mrs. J. S. Chestnut, the owner, of 236 Dayton Court. Owing to the slippery streets a quick stop could not be made, though both cars were proceeding slowly.

BOY HURT BY AUTO TRUCK

Glenn Bronner, a boy living at 422 East Harvard, was considerably injured Tuesday forenoon while riding his bicycle on the sidewalk along the south side of Colorado, east of Brand. One of Robinson Bros.' big trucks, driven by F. E. Murch, was coming out of the alley in rear of the warehouse, struck Glenn and ran over him. His right arm was badly bruised and strained and his left hand crushed. He lost two finger nails and considerable flesh from the fingers. He was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium for treatment, but was able to go home this morning. His parents say they realize the boy should not have been riding on the walk, but think a vigorous warning alarm should be sounded by every truck driver coming out of the alley. Glenn's bicycle was made a complete wreck.

BAISLEY'S CONDITION IMPROVING

Dent Baisley reports that his brother, Cecil Baisley, of 445 Oak Street, who was mistaken Sunday night for a fleeing burglar by Officer Wilson and shot in the right ankle, is still suffering great pain but is in no actual danger. His recovery will be slow, as two bones were broken by the bullet. If no complications result he will not be lamed, the doctor states.

WOODBERRYS WILL BUILD AGAIN

G. B. Woodberry and wife, who recently sold their beautiful new home at 535 North Kenwood, before it was finished, to Forrest Rogers and wife, will build again soon and hope they may not be tempted again to sell before they have a chance to test the living qualities of the new home at least a week.

RAINFALL .03

Lowering skies had not squeezed out much of a rainfall up to noon today, but gave promise of a heavier precipitation later on. H. E. Bartlett of North Brand Boulevard reported that his rain gauge showed only .03 of an inch had fallen up to that hour. This brought the total precipitation for the season since September to 7.02. He declared with the wind in the east all conditions were favorable and he believed we would have a good rain this time.

ONLY 84,000 WORKERS IN KRUPP WORKS NOW

ESSEN, Germany, (By Mail).—The Krupp works, which formed the backbone of Germany's munitions supply, are employing today about the same number of men as before the war. This does not represent, however, the same amount of business in the plant as in the pre-war period, say officials of the works, inasmuch as the labor situation is altered and extra workers are needed because of the eight-hour day.

The employment roll before the war stood: In July, 1919, the Essen works proper employed 41,263 and the outside Krupp works, 40,118; in June, 1918, Essen employed 112,360 and the outside works, 58,641; while today the roll stands, Essen 44,758 and outer works, 40,118.

Formerly, the Krupp works had a twelve hour day with two hours out for meals and rest. The laborer went to work at 6 a. m. and quit at 6 p. m. Now in some parts it is necessary to have three shifts to keep fires going.

The "piece work" system is in force. This system, gradually coming into effect in Germany again, appears to work well in the Krupp plant.

And the spirit among the workmen is altogether better than in many of the rest of Germany's industrial works. A generous percentage live in company houses, which would make a middleclass American envious and would look like a palace compared to some corporation houses in the states.

Then there is a pension system, a savings system, a general paternal air about the place. In fact, the Krupp works idea has always been that of a sort of a big family. It is the largest company in the world, I believe, which is controlled and practically entirely owned by a single family. And Essen, a clean, bustling, comfortable-appearing city of 500,000, is made up mainly of Krupp people or of people whose business arises from the fact that the Krupp works are in existence.

Herr Krupp von Bohlen and his wife have made it a point to retain their old workers. Men who had jobs before the war are on their payrolls, and those who have lost out were either the women workers taken on temporarily or the conscripted laborers and foreigners engaged for the war's duration.

Many of the workers are men who have grown gray in the service.

They have the family solidarity idea, and, this family solidarity idea has displeased the communists and radical socialists, for it has so far frustrated their efforts to cause an upset in the industrial fabric of the Krupp institution. True, there were a few disturbances for a day or two during the revolution. But that is past, and for the most part, the workman goes on reasonably contented with his work.

Virtually no women are now employed. About 25 per cent of the wartime increase was of women employes. Now only a few are retained—generally widows of former employes, who are given work largely out of sympathy.

A California youngster had been permitted to visit a boy friend on the strict condition that he was to leave there at 5 o'clock. He did not arrive home till 7 and his mother was very angry. The youngster insisted, however, that he had obeyed her orders and had not lingered unnecessarily on the way.

"Do you expect me to believe," said his mother, "that it took you two hours to walk a quarter of a mile?" She reached for the whip. "Now, sir, will you tell me the truth?"

"Ye-es, mamma," sobbed the boy. "Charlie Wilson gave me a mud turtle—and I was afraid—to carry it—so I led it home."—Boston Transcript.

The surgeon had at last arrived at Pat's bedside, and after the usual preliminaries he prodded poor Pat in the region of his wound. "Does that hurt you?" he asked.

Pat leaned forward a moment in his cot, and, landing the surgeon a stunning blow on the nose, he shouted, "Sure, an' do thot hurt you?"—London Opinion.

"I don't like your heart action," the doctor said, applying the stethoscope again. "You have had some trouble with angina pectoris." "You're partly right, doctor," said the young man, sheepishly, "only that isn't her name."—Indianapolis Medical Journal.

Mrs. Peppercorn (engaging maid): "I warn you that I am a little short-tempered, and am sometimes sharp and impatient." Maid (cheerfully): "Oh, that is quite all right; I am just like that myself."—Pearson's Weekly.

McDONALDS ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

AT ONCE RE-ARRESTED CHARGED WITH CHECK MANIPULATION AND THEFT OF AUTOMOBILE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 22.—The jury today acquitted Fay, Marie and Ted McDonald, charged with the murder of W. H. McNutt, a Spokane realty dealer. The trio immediately were re-arrested, the woman charged with check manipulation and Ted McDonald with stealing McNutt's automobile. All three had testified at the trial that it was Will McDonald, an elder brother, who had killed McNutt. He had escaped arrest. The others were arrested in Los Angeles.

"THE CAMPFIRE"

The Hike

Last Friday forty-eight Glendale Scouts set out for Camp Arthur Letts. Mr. Kellogg and two other parties carried the boys' packs in automobiles, and the boys, in charge of Scoutmaster Blanford, mounted the car for Burbank. From there the party enjoyed the six-mile hike to camp, arriving just about dark, with appetites aglow. Needless to say, supper was the first and foremost event on the program just then, and soon the fires were brightly burning and steaks, chops, bacon, etc., sizzling.

After supper a big campfire was lighted and games, jokes and stories were enjoyed to the utmost. The campfire guest was Dr. Walter Scaife, of the Glendale Council, and he closed the evening's entertainment by reading a composition of his on the Scout Law written in verse. This was a splendid treat, and all are looking forward to obtaining copies of the poem to paste under the cover of the Scout Manuals.

Saturday morning was spent in hiking, baseball and swimming. The afternoon was devoted to passing Scout tests, and a splendid record was made by our Glendale Scouts. There were only a few in camp who did not pass at least one test.

The evening saw another campfire which was enjoyed even more than the fire of the previous night. The spotlight on this occasion was held by Mr. Kellogg, who told the boys a thrilling railroad story, illustrating what it means for Scouts to be brave. After a closing prayer the boys slid into their bunks for a good night's rest.

Sunday morning featured a new Scouting experience for many of the boys, namely, Scout Church. Scouts all feel that there is no church as wonderful, grand and inspiring as God's own church, the Out-of-Doors. This humble service, with a red-blooded young congregation, seated on the ground under the liveoaks, and with a big stump for a pulpit will long be remembered. It was an inspiration to boys and to Mr. Kellogg, the "preacher."

After Church, most of the boys packed up and struck for home, voting the week-end one of the most enjoyable ever experienced, and already anxiously counting the time until they will go again.

It is hoped that Glendale Scouts will be able to repeat the trip before many weeks more have passed.

Good Turn for Glendale Scouts

The Scouts of Glendale have volunteered their services to the city forester for tree-planting, and these services have been enthusiastically accepted. Troop No. One will be given the first opportunity and will meet the city forester at Cerritos Avenue School at 8:30 on Saturday, January 31. Troop No. Two will do their turn on Saturday, February 6, and the other troops will follow in rotation. Careful record will be kept of the number of trees planted by each troop, and the number of boys from each troop who participate in the planting. Which troop will set the record as Glendale's star troop?

Watch Next Week's Campfire

The next issue of "The Campfire" will contain some things which it is hoped every Scout in Glendale will cut out and save. Watch for it, Scouts! Be sure that you secure a copy of next week's "Campfire in Thursday's News!

ative to a site for the proposed new High School buildings and of the recommendations on which the committee finally agreed and which it submitted to the mass meeting of citizens last week. Slips were passed for members to sign with an indication of what kind of help if any they were prepared to give in connection with the proposed bond election. Mrs. Barton went quite fully into the reasons which had led the committee to recommend a Brand Boulevard site for the proposed auditorium which she said they regarded in the light of a civic as well as a school auditorium, and the president expressed the thanks of the association for the conscientious work of the committee. Mrs. Barton said the proposition to buy two blocks to the east of the present site instead of one came up in the committee discussions, and it was not considered practicable because it would tend to destroy the unity of the present group of buildings and put both the athletic field and the buildings which might be placed on those blocks too far from the main campus. Association members were urged to register that they might be prepared to vote.

proposed park is in about the center of the section affected which reaches from a point a little north of Vine Street in the Valley View district to a point a little north of Vine Avenue in the Grand View district.

In the city nurseries are sycamore trees six to ten feet tall which could be set on this tract and with what is declared to be small expense, convert it into a wooded acreage which in the course of five to ten years would be quite a handsome grove, so greatly increased in value as to be an excellent asset of the municipality.

GIVE WAY TO COUNT BUZZOFF!

LONDON. (By Mail.)—Sir. William Sutherland, M. P., one of Lloyd George's secretaries, tells of an amusing experience he had in Budapest.

He was very perturbed as to how to get away. Bela Kun and the bolshevists were in possession of the city and he could not get a passport or other facilities.

So he went and sat in a train, trusting to luck to escape.

Very soon some bolshevists approached the carriage and spoke to him, but he made signs that he did not understand. They went away and brought back some high officials, and he was interrogated again

This time he felt himself growing pettish, and remarked heatedly: "O, buzz off! Buzz off!"

These words created a great impression. Obeisances were made, a notice put on the window, and the carriage door was locked with the Englishman alone inside.

The train moved off.

At the next station he opened the window and found that the notice read:

"This compartment is reserved for Count Buzzoff."

SEARCH FOR LOST GIRL

HURON, S. D., Jan. 22.—Every daily newspaper in the United States has been asked to aid in the search for Alma Mulhollan, 14 years old, who disappeared from her home here on the night of November 27, last.

The girl has a light complexion, brown hair and blue eyes, and is about five feet, five inches tall. She has a brown birthmark, about one and a half inches long and a half inch wide on her left arm, near the elbow. At the time of her disappearance she wore a dark red velvet coat with belt, fur collar and beaver cap and a brown dress trimmed with narrow, rose colored ribbon.

Mrs. Frank Mulhollan of Huron, mother of the girl, has offered a reward of $50 for information leading to the whereabouts of her daughter.

EUROPE'S HEN SHORTAGE

Even in these days the rate of one eggia week per person sounds like a small allowance for a family. Yet that is the consumption to which England is reduced. Great Britain has always imported a considerable part of its egg supply. In 1913, it is said, she imported 150,000 tons of eggs. Last year she imported only 22,000. Her chief sources of supply are cut off—Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary. Those countries now have no eggs at all for export. Before the war they furnished Britain six out of every ten imported eggs.

This brings out the fact that Europe today has 180,000,000 hens less than it had six years ago. Belgium has lost 80 per cent of its hens, Holland has lost 75 per cent; Denmark and France have about half as many as they had before the war. The United Kingdom has fared better, losing only a tenth of its poultry population.

Europe needs hens, and will get them in time. But to renew their flocks the people will have to go without eggs or rely on food substitutes.

WHERE'S THE MONEY?

Many American coins rarely if ever seen in circulation are still officially outstanding in substantial quantities. Among these are $40,000 worth of copper cent pieces made in the early days of the country, more than $500,000 worth of two-cent pieces, and $665,000 worth of three-cent pieces. They are still of full face value—and sometimes more to coin collectors.

Many trade dollars—of the variety issued some forty years ago in a futile effort to compete in the orient with the far famed Mexican silver dollar—have never come back. They were not of legal tender for more than $5, though when abandoned, a reasonable time was given for exchanging them for standard silver dollars. Those still extant are of only buillion value, except perhaps to collectors.

Likewise a substantial amount of paper money is still officially rated as "outstanding," but is never expected to return for redemption. It is estimated that one per cent of all paper money is lost or destroyed and when such happens the government profits. This is the case even with national bank notes.—Nation's Business.

EASY JUDGMENTS

The dilettanti make light work of social questions. Everyone, by the fact of living in society, gather some observations of social phenomena. The belief grows up, as it was expressed some time ago by a professor of mathematics, that everybody knows about the topics of sociology. Those topics have a broad and generous character. They lend themselves easily to generalizations. There are as yet no sharp tests formulated. Above all, and worst lack of all as yet, we have no competent criticism. Hence it is easy for the aspirant after culture to venture on this field without great danger of being brought to account, as he would be if he attempted geology, or physics, or biology. Even a scientific man of high attainments in some other science, in which he well understands what special care, skill and training are required, will not hesitate to dogmatize about a topic of sociology. A group of half educated men may be relied upon to attack a social question and to hammer it dead in a few minutes with a couple of commonplaces and a sweeping priori assumption. Above all other topics, social topics lend themselves to the purposes of the diner out.—Exchange.
